LIVE NEWS OF TURF AND TRACK WORLD

LAXITY OF DISCIPLINE IS SOURCE OF TURF DANGER

SOME INSTANCES WHERE REGULATIONS WERE NOT SUFFICIENTLY ENFORCED WITH VERY DASTAROUS RESULTS.

THE HELPING OF THE HAMILTON BROTHERS

THE PART THE NATIONAL TROTTING ASSOCIATION TOOK IN THE AFFAIR.

By Henry Ten Eyck White.

Laxity of discipline always has been characteristic of the harness turf, and, owing to peculiar conditions which are inseparable from the sport, it is not likely there ever will be any fair, equal, and constant enforcement of the rules—of which there are enough to make a book—especially those which have to do with certain practices which come under the general head of "helping."

Attention is called to this phase of the matter by a recent decision of the board of review of the National Trotting Association, under which David Shaw, a wealthy resident of Pittsburg, and owner of the champion 4-year-old trotter Joan and the 1916 winner of the Kentucky Futurity for 2-year-olds, Grace, was fined $100 for assisting in the making of an expense bill regarding Joan that he had paid $500 for "help" in the Transylvania, won by that mare.

"Helping" Bothers Hamilton.

"Andy" Hamilton of West Virginia, owned an interest in Joan while she was racing last summer, having bought the same from her breeder, who in 1909 sold three-quarters of the filly to Capt. Shaw. As Joan won two of the best purses at Lexington the Transylvania and the Walnut Hill farm cup, and has been getting some of the money all summer, her total winnings for the year being a shade over $17,000, Mr. Hamilton felt good over his purchase, although he never had purchased in Joan to Capt. Shaw. Hamilton saw the mare win at Lexington, and when the season ended he made public part ownership and was ready for a settlement.

"Crime" Is Not Obvious.

When the statement for the year was presented there was an item of $500, alleged to have been paid for "help" in the Transylvania. Now Mr. Hamilton, like a good many other people who say

A TRAGIC STORY OF THE RACE TRACK THAT IS BURIED IN A NEW JERSEY GRAVEYARD—THE PITIFUL STORY OF THE GIRL "KATE."

HER WANDERINGS FROM TRACK TO TRACK

Tod Sloan Finally Strikes It Rich on Foreign Tracks

JOCKEY WHO WAS BARRIED FROM ENGLISH TURF TO MANAGE BIG STABLE IN BRUSSELS.

New York, May 20.—After many years of hard striving, James Tod Sloan has struck oil. The diminutive jockey, once the greatest in the world "Katie," is in exclusive control of a big racing stable in Brussels, owned by Theodore Meyers, consisting of more than thirty horses, and if good luck remains with him he says he will make a fortune. Sloan doesn't weigh more than 108 pounds and frequently climbs into the saddle for early morning gallops, but he cannot ride in Europe, for the old reason that the English jockey club has steadfastly refused to recognize him.

Sloan hung around the New York tracks until the Azevedo-Hart fiasco went into effect in 1908. Then he sailed away for foreign lands to seek his fortune. He first went to the French racing courses and picked up a few dollars playing the stakes and purveying information. Somewhere told him he would make a first-class aviator because of his light weight, but the element of danger did not appeal to him. He became a demonstrator for an automobile concern, but his fascination for the turf soon convinced him that with proper backing he could make more money in horse racing than in any other branch of sport. Meyers, in search of an experienced jockey for various racing events, was thrown in with Sloan and together they proved a winning combination.

Supervising the work of preparing the horses for various racing events and instructing the jockeys how to ride enabled Sloan to prove his value, with the result that last year the stable was a big winner and Meyer cleaned up a handsome sum in wagers. Sloan received a percentage of the stakes and purses, also a share of the winning bets. He gathered with a fat salary, and today the little fellow can draw his check for a large amount, it is said. It is doubtful if Sloan could display his old riding form, however, even if he secured a license. He has been on the ground for nearly ten years. At one time Edward Gorrigan, when controlling city park, New Orleans, allowed Sloan to ride in his colors, but after a few races Gorrigan told him he had lost touch of his skill.

Frequent attempts have been made by his friends to secure examinations from the English jockey club's stewards, but without success. The nature of Sloan's offences in England have never been made known, but his friends have always insisted that the cause of his rejection was the prejudice of his opponents. Because of his plight he has been unable to secure a license from the jockey club here or from the turf authorities in France and Germany, yet he has never ceased to try for reinstatement. In view of his present success, however, Sloan is so well paid that he is not inclined to try for reinstatement.

When Sloan was at his best he commanded his money for his services. The late W. C. Whitney paid him $5,000 and expenses to come here from England to ride in the race at Ballydoyle in the future. He is said to have earned nearly $500,000 as a jockey, but he spent the money foolishly.

Hankins, Well Known Turfman, Is Very Ill

Chicago, May 20.—George W. Hankins, who a quarter of a century ago was one of the best known turfmen in the country, is ill at the home of a relative in Gary, Ind., and his physicians have small hope of his recovery.

Hankins built the Garfield park and the Harlem race tracks in this city, and of the former he is credited with having made a great fortune. The closing of racing in Chicago and unfortunate real estate speculation, it is said, wiped out the greater part of his fortune.

In 1890, his horse, Uncle Bob, won the American Derby at Washington park.

Montreal, May 20.—Twenty-five horses have been unloaded at Belvedere park here this Wednesday. The twenty-first was a bay gelding, which was owned by J. J. Hart and was sold to J. J. Hart. The twenty-second was a bay gelding, which was owned by J. J. Hart and was sold to J. J. Hart. The twenty-third was a bay gelding, which was owned by J. J. Hart and was sold to J. J. Hart. The twenty-fourth was a bay gelding, which was owned by J. J. Hart and was sold to J. J. Hart. The twenty-fifth was a bay gelding, which was owned by J. J. Hart and was sold to J. J. Hart.

Today a variety of horses will have their first race at Belvedere park, to be followed on Monday and Wednesday with a variety of races. Some of the best horses in training will be seen in the races. The races will be held at Belvedere park, which is one of the best places ever seen in this city.

Electrical Workers Seek to Arbitrate Wage Schedule for City Employees in Their Line

Decision Comes After Refusal of Commissioners to Deal With the Men Directly Interested

REPRESENTATIVES OF UNION INVOKE AID OF LEMIEUX ACT

Local members of the International Brotherhood of Electrical Workers will ask that a wage schedule for the city of Edmonton be referred to a board of arbitration under the Industrial Disputes Act. This decision follows futile efforts of the electrical workers to adjust the matter with the city commissioners. The commissioners received a letter yesterday afternoon from representatives of the union directing attention to the fact that the Lemieux act provides for recognition of labor collectively.

The letter further pointed out that the act was not framed in the interests of labor unions, and that in view of the attitude assumed by the commissioners in refusing to deal with representatives of city employees, it was necessary to apply to the conciliation board.

STRUCTURAL IRON WORKERS STRIKE

RESULTS IN TIE-UP OF RAILROAD BRIDGE WORK ON THREE LINES.

Railway buildings throughout the Canadian west, on the three transcontinental lines and branches, is being held back; at least two big bridges being built in and near Calgary are practically at a standstill; the structures over which the Grand Trunk Pacific and the Canadian Northern enter Calgary, stand a good chance of not being built until considerably later in the season than intended, by the companies that many buildings and smaller contracts on which steel workers are required, are held up for want of mechanics to execute the work, and in numerous other ways the country at large is suffering on account of the strike among the structural steel workers, in which probably one thousand men walked out about three weeks ago.

Practically all the Canadian companies engaged in structural steel work are affected. Among others affected are: The Canadian Northern company, the Canadian Bridge company, the Dominion Bridge company, and the Algonquin Steel Bridge company, all of which concerns have very large and numerous contracts at present in the west.

All the men employed on the big bridge where the Calgary branch of the Grand Trunk crosses the Red Deer river, near Axa, are out on strike and work is at a standstill. This bridge is one of the most important in the province, and should it be held back much longer the Calgary branch of the line will not reach here this fall, as the company's track-laying machine is beyond the structure, awaiting its completion in order that it may proceed towards Calgary with the line of steel. The grading has been completed over the greater part of the distance, and the bed is ready for the track. The Canadian Bridge company have the contract for the bridge at Axa.

The Canadian Pacific Railway company and all the American concerns with contracts in the Canadian west are said to have given in to the demands of the steel workers.

There are 35 men on strike in the city of Calgary, and in the West, in places, where there are many structural steel works being carried on, there are probably 150 out. Similar conditions prevail in all the cities of the west.

The Canadian Pacific Railway company is not affected, and many of the men who have been out for some time have found employment with that institution either on trestle work or on steel work. With a great amount of wooden trestle work now being done in the west, most of the men are at a loss to find employment, according to the union officials.

The Grand Trunk Pacific and the Canadian Northern companies appear to be hardest hit. There are many big bridges along their transcontinental lines in course of construction, under contract with firms whose men are out on strike, and in many cases further roadbed making cannot be done until the structures are completed.

On the lower and less dangerously located structures, the companies have caused of laborers and inexperienced men at work, according to the union, but on the higher and more difficult structures only skilled structural men can work, and it is there that the men have the companies tied up.

Although confident of ultimate victory, the men and their union oppose the strike in the west will be a protracted one. They state that they are prepared to hold out for any length of time.

"No man should be compelled to work more than eight hours a day," A century and a half ago Benjamin Franklin said that with industry frugalized and with every able-bodied man and woman doing the work they ought to do—their share—that three hours and a half of labor would be sufficient to supply all the material needs of the human family. If Franklin was right, how much easier would it now be possible to supply these needs, equipped as we are with all the vast labor-saving devices that have been invented and put into use since his time? In order to utilize this machinery to the best interests of society, the hours of labor must be reduced to a point where every man and woman shall have an opportunity to work and to receive full social reward for their labor. Fewer people working long hours, with thousands of others in enforced idleness is a condition that must be supplanted by a system under which all able-bodied people shall work short hours and no one be in enforced idleness."—Spokane Labor World.

The number of international unions who have not as yet affiliated their Canadian membership with the Trades and Labor Congress of Canada, steadily grows less. The Amalgamated Association of Street Railway Employees is the latest organization to fall into line, and thereafter will pay the per capita tax upon their entire Canadian membership direct from international headquarters. Last year the congress gained over 15,000 new members.

Council Did Well In Appointing Commissioners

In appointing two additional commissioners the city council took the only action open to it to bring the city out of the difficulties into which Commissioner Bouillon by his heckling and bickering has been thrusting it.

With the city in danger of having its water and light service crippled in the coming winter, with orders for machinery held up, with public works almost at a standstill through the obstruction of the commissioner, and with the city saddled by the courts with a long-drawn and entirely superfluous investigation, there was no way out for the council, it was to serve the requirements of the city, than to appoint enough commissioners to over-ride the Bouillon-Butchart deadlock.

That Mr. Bouillon's heckling has been senseless, profitless and aggravating beyond all patience there have been a thousand instances to prove. That he has been inspired by wild anxiety to spread any misconstruction which he thought would influence public opinion against the council has been evident to all who have followed his methods. And that the impasse into which his uncured desire to fight the council has brought the affairs of the city promised certain disaster was a fear which was by no means lacking in promise of fulfillment.

It may as well be candidly acknowledged here, and it undoubtedly is acknowledged by those members of the council with whom he has waged his most aggravating fight, that Mr. Bouillon has ability of a certain order, but developments have shown that in his egotistical desire to hog the spotlight he is willing to let the city for a constant turmoil which could not fail to cost severely in money and in dignity.

Possibly a partial explanation of this frame of mind may be found in the fact that Mr. Bouillon is not and never has been essentially an Edmonton man. Coming to this city from a larger centre whence he had just emerged from a similar struggle in a larger area, naturally endowed with the taste for the spectacular and with the desire for political conflict seething in every fibre, it is not astonishing that he should have fallen into the error that he could tower as a giant in a sea of mediocrity, that here among Edmontonians untutored in cute and cunning methods of the American politician he could make those about him look like monkeys in a menagerie; that this was his great chance to break permanently into the limelight and get his name emblazoned in the hall of fame.

To a community such as Edmonton, with its involved interests and its millions in utilities, acrimony and recrimination where there should be harmony and co-operation is a positive menace. The city cannot afford to take the chance.

The council did well to appoint the two additional commissioners, and it did well to appoint men whose interests in the city and whose identification with the city's growth are a guarantee of their desire to promote the best interests of the city. It is to be hoped that they will be guided by calm judgment and common sense and that they will not allow the grass to grow under their feet in making up the lost time.

Municipal Gas Has First Call On the Ratepayers

The reception given the municipal gas project at the council committee yesterday afternoon is practically a guarantee that the ratepayers will have an opportunity to vote for or against a municipal gas project before they will be called upon to reject a franchise proposition.

Four aldermen have already declared themselves as being in favor of municipal gas and the mayor's stand on this question is too well known to even require a statement.

With the council lined up in this way the franchise hunters, notwithstanding the fervid support they are getting from the Journal and the Bulletin, are likely to have to wait until the citizens themselves decide whether or not they want to embark in the municipal gas enterprise.

This is as it should be. No franchise corporation has any franchise rights in this city at the present time and no corporation should be given a chance to acquire any such right until the citizens have decided that they do not want to exercise the right themselves.

What Is the Difference In These Two Projects For Development

For the first 50 miles of the Brazeau line the Canadian Northern gets a guarantee of $13,000 and for the next 100 miles a guarantee of $25,000 a mile.

This guarantee comes not from the Alberta government, but from the Dominion government.

When the Alberta government undertook to guarantee a road into the north country at the rate of $20,000 a mile certain Ottawa politicians attacked the proposition as being out of all reason.

Now that a larger guarantee is being given another company to build a road to the west not a word of condemnation is heard from these same politicians.

How does it happen that a guarantee of $20,000 a mile for a road to the north is extravagant and a guarantee of $25,000 a mile for a road to the west is good business?

GRIMSHAW, BAGSHAW AND GRADSHAW AT THE LYCEUM
Sherman and Cleveland's production of "A Charming Pair" the first musical success at the Lyceum theatre will close tonight and Grimshaw, Bagshaw and Gradshaw, will be presented Monday. This bill is without question the greatest laugh-provoking show in the repertoire of the Merry-makers. The music is far above the ordinary, and the dances, given by the well trained chorus are complete novelties throughout.

With the large cast of clever performers now at the Lyceum this play should be given a splendid interpretation.

AT THE EMPIRE

Before an audience which in numbers fell far below the merits of the production, Mr. John Griffith presented "Othello" at the Empire last evening. One of the heaviest plays in the company's repertoire, the great Shakespearean tragedy, was produced with a skill of artist and strength such as western playgoers are seldom privileged to enjoy. While in many respects it was an unequal presentation, the strength of the later scenes, in which Mr. Griffith as Othello excelled himself as an actor of real sincerity and power, amply compensated for the defects of the representation, and the fifth act was a triumph of his art.

Miss Edith Totten as Desdemona proved herself an actress of more than common merit, and at times rose to the highest pathos and passion, though she simultaneously failed to meet the heavy emotional demand of the chamber scene.

HOUSE ADJOURNS TO MEET IN JULY

SUPPLY BILL AND OTHER MEASURES IN COMMONS PASS THIRD READING

Ottawa, May 20.—Assent was given by Sir Charles Fitzgerald, deputy governor general last night to a supply bill for $34,500,000 and all other bills that have passed their third reading. Following their visit to the senate where this official act took place the members of the house of commons ceased work shortly after ten o'clock for a period of two months.

In reply to a question from Mr. Borden last before the speaker left the chair as to what the business of the house would be when it meets again in July, the minister of finance replied that it probably will be reciprocity.

The supply bill, which includes five twelfths of all items not voted, is made up of the main estimates for the current year, totalling over $25,000,000, supplementary estimates of slightly less than $8,600,000, and $350,000 of supplementaries for the previous fiscal year.

At the evening sitting, Mr. Lemieux's bill to increase the salaries of post office officials was given its third reading.

At the morning sitting, an effort was made to pass the grain bill which reached the house from the senate, but the opposition members said they desired time to fully consider the bill and Mr. Fielding moved the adjournment of the discussion in order that other bills might be disposed of.

In the report of the proceeding of the Industrial Committee of the city council and the city commissioners at their meeting on Thursday afternoon it was inadvertently stated that Alderman Lumley held a lengthy conversation with G. S. Eaton of the International Heating and Lighting Co. It has been learned since that Mr. Eaton was not interviewed by Mr. Lumley on that day.

WILD RUMORS OF PLOT TO ASSASSINATE MADERO

Mexico City, May 20.—Although government officials deny knowledge of any plot to capture or assassinate Francisco I. Madero, jr., the revolutionary leader, or interfere with him should he come to the capital, the story that such a plot has been detected served to tighten public tension. Residents of the capital are speculating today regarding the probable action should they give full credence to the report true or not. It appears to have interested Senator Madero to an extent that has caused him to postpone his trip to the capital and to consult with Senator De Labarra concerning peace.

The first financial statement of the Edmonton Portland Cement Company should show a surplus in fair values of more than 100 per cent of the capital stock of the company and should give the shares of the company an immediate market value of $200. This is the most important business opportunity which this community has ever had and public spirit should ensure the complete financing of the enterprise within 30 days.

ARTICLE NUMBER XII

This article concludes the series which has been published from day to day in all of the daily papers in Edmonton during the past two weeks.

The aim of these articles has been educative. The one purpose has been to inform the public as to just what the Edmonton Portland Cement Company means. Every essential fact of this great enterprise has been fully and fairly stated. And the people of Edmonton and vicinity now realize the meaning and importance of this institution, which will undoubtedly be the most profitable industrial enterprise in Western Canada.

WHAT THE EDMONTON PORTLAND CEMENT COMPANY MEANS

The Edmonton Portland Cement Company means an addition to the business of this city of at least $1,000,000 per year.

It means keeping at home that vast sum of money which is now being sent to Eastern cement mills and paid to railroad companies for freight charges on cement which is now shipped to the Edmonton district from Ontario and elsewhere.

It means a local supply for a market which is now paralyzing the construction operations of this entire district by reason of a cement famine. There is not a bag of Portland Cement in Edmonton today. Work now under construction would immediately absorb 25,000 barrels in twenty-four hours. At Calgary, which has two cement mills, work is standing still, and 300 men are idle on wages at $3.00 per day, because there is not a bag of Portland Cement to be had in that city. The leading dealers in Portland Cement both at Edmonton and Calgary, Messrs. Gorman, Clancey & Grindley, Ltd., have authorized the statement that they need 25,000 barrels of Portland Cement at Edmonton and 40,000 barrels at Calgary for most urgent orders now in their hands which they cannot fill.

LOCAL CONDITIONS REMARKABLY ADVANTAGEOUS.

The Edmonton Portland Cement Company is the product of two facts that are purely local:

One is the discovery of the greatest marl deposit on the American Continent and an inexhaustible bed of the very best cement clay, within five miles of each other.

The other fact is construction work in the City of Edmonton and to the North and West of here, which is only just beginning, will consume AT LEAST 400,000 barrels of Portland Cement per year indefinitely.

The local market price of Portland Cement is fixed by the cost of production at Eastern mills plus freight charges to this district. At present it is about $3.12, and contractors are begging for cement at that price. It will never be lower.

It remains only to be said that if this situation existed in Winnipeg or any other city where the progressive spirit is more active and where splendid commercial opportunities are more quickly appreciated, the enterprise would have been financed within a week. People would have jumped at the chance.

EDMONTON NEEDS THIS ENTERPRISE

Edmonton needs this institution far more than it needs any other single enterprise. Everyone knows that this city should go to a population of 100,000 within five years. The amount of building which this means is something colossal. It means the building here of two other cities as large as this. The making of Edmonton will require more cement than the Edmonton Portland Cement Company can produce.

The whole proposition sums itself up in a single sentence: The Edmonton Portland Cement Company can manufacture cement for 78 cents a barrel, sell its output at its mill doors for $3.05, and, running at twenty per cent below its capacity, it can earn for its shareholders a dividend of 40 per cent. on its capital stock.

There is no question of the market. One firm will gladly take the entire output of the mill.

The engineer is now on the ground and the work preliminary to construction is now under way. The work will now be pressed as rapidly as possible, and it is expected that the plant will be in operation in May of next year.

FIRST FINANCIAL STATEMENT WILL DOUBLE VALUE OF SHARES

The financing of the enterprise should be completed within 30 days, and when the company begins operations in May next, its balance sheet should be about as follows:

STATEMENT

ASSETS—

Cash on hand for working capital	$ 170,000
Plant at cost	630,000
Raw materials purchased and sufficient for the manufacture of at least 12,500,000 barrels of cement at 20 cents per barrel	2,500,000
	$3,300,000

LIABILITIES—

Capital Stock	1,500,000
Surplus to shareholders	$1,800,000

This is about the basis on which the shares should then go on the market—which should give them a value of at least $200, which value would be well supported by the fact that the Company can pay a dividend of 40 per cent.

Shares are now offered to the public at par—$100, payable on convenient terms. To the investor this means that upon an investment of $100 he will have in one year a value of $200, and thereafter a permanent income of 40 per cent. or 40 dollars a share.

An announcement of vital importance to a large number of purchasers of British Columbia lands, is contained in a telegraphic dispatch from his solicitor in Victoria, B. C., to the effect that an order-in-council has just been passed amending the recent order raising the price of government lands from $2.50 and $5.00 to $5.50 and $10.00 per acre. The last order issued annuls the previous one by granting to those who had, previous to the last order-in-council, secured certificates of purchase, to complete their purchases at the old price.

Building Permits

Building permits to the amount of $24,000 have been issued at the office of the city building inspector during the month of May, compared with $7,262 for the entire month of May, 1908. A large number of structures are in sight for the remainder of the month and there is a strong probability that the total permits will reach the half million dollar mark.

Permits issued this morning by the building inspector were as follows: H. Truitt, five residences on Government avenue, costing $1700 each; G. W. E. Candy, Sixth street, residence, $1500.

SPECIAL COM. REPORT ON COATES' GAS PROPOSITION

together with an idea of what would be necessary on the city's part in order that such a proposal be submitted. The company which I represent is desirous to negotiate with the city of Edmonton with the intention of framing a contract calling for the construction of a gas plant and buildings of a capacity suitable to the present and prospective needs of the city, the capacity of which I suggest should be not less than 125,000 cubic feet a day. This would be sufficient for your requirements at present, and the works would be so constructed so that additions could be made to the gas retorts and the holding capacity with advantage and economy so that they could be added at the smallest possible cost when the necessity for such increase arrives.

The company would be prepared to install this plant complete, lay the mains in the street, and furnish to the city a going concern, complete and up-to-date in every respect.

As will be readily recognized by yourselves, one of the chief arguments against municipal ownership of gas is the fact that the gas business is to of the existence of the enterprise it is a certain extent a commercial enterprise; that in the earlier stages at least necessary to "hustle" in order that a sufficient patronage may be secured to make the enterprise self-sustaining, something which the municipality as a general rule is not prepared to do. If acceptable to the council I propose to meet this objection in the following manner, that is, our company will operate the new utility for term of one, two or three years after completion, as the city sees fit, the company merely acting as agents for the city, the city guaranteeing the interest on the outlay after the first twelve months and the company undertake to the best of its ability to place the business on a self-sustaining basis at the earliest possible moment. When this is accomplished the company will turn over

STRATHCONA NEWS

Strathcona, May 20.—To the Manley Construction Co., of Edmonton, will probably be awarded the contract of excavating for proposed sewer and water lines extensions in the city this morning. The contract was practically awarded yesterday afternoon by an unanimous decision of the city council in an adjourned session held at 10 o'clock in agreement have still to be closed up before the documents are signed. The contract, which the Manley Construction firm have secured involves about $41,818.93, although these tenders are less than those quoted by the city engineer's estimate of the cost.

Ald. Dullard was the only absentee at Thursday's meeting. Upon the opening of business, Chairman Radford of the water and sewer committee read a report recommending the acceptance of the Manley Construction Co. for contract one, that of excavations for the east end trunk sewer and laterals, for $39,723.08, an additional price of $3.50 per cubic yard to be paid for any sandstone or bedrock having to be removed. Contract two, that of extensions to present water and sewer lines, was recommended at $12,095.85. This last tender was over $2,000 less than the lowest and council had no hesitation in making the award.

Ald. Richards, while he has expressed himself favorably to giving the work in the east end extensions to the Edmonton firm, opposed the tender for excavating $350 extra for each cubic yard of rock removed. He considered this a doubtful kind of contract for the city to enter into, even though the tender figures of this firm were $10,000 less than that of the lowest bidder. Ald. Vogel was firmly of the opinion that there will be no rock encountered along Mill creek as the firms tendering anticipated. He had found none in 20 years. However, he also wanted to have the best kind of guarantee.

Other members of the council including the Mayor inclined to the views of Ald. Richards and in the end it was decided that a clause proposed by him be inserted in the contract, to the effect that $350 per cubic yard would be allowed over the tender price for rockwork up and not exceeding 2000 yards of rock requiring to be blasted. To this the representative of the firm, Mr. Tucker, eventually agreed, also that the city engineer's decision as to what constitutes rock, to be accepted as final.

Mr. Tucker further agreed to have his firm give personal security for 10 per cent. of the amount of the tenders, until such time as the corporate bonds are turned over to the city from the American Security Co.

Will Ask For Street Railway Extensions

The probable points of difference at the plant to the city, accepting payment of the price fixed in the original agreement, and if such an arrangement would be more satisfactory to the city, accepting municipal bonds in lieu of cash.

In order to make an estimate of the cost of complete plant the company will require from the city.

A statement of the capacity of the plant which the council deems it advisable to install.

Plans furnished by the city commissioners or engineer showing the streets, lanes, etc., in which the city proposes that the mains be laid.

And any general suggestions as to the manner of laying mains or the class of construction which the city commissioners or engineer deem advisable to have included in the agreement which the company proposes to submit.

Immediately upon receipt of these particulars the company is prepared to go ahead at once, working in conjunction with the city's engineering department, with the preparation of the plans upon which the company will submit its final proposal.

Promptness in the preparation of these plans and arriving at the final proposal it should be recognized would be mutually advantageous to the city and to the company.

Finally, the company intends that when its final proposal is submitted it will be in such form as to specifically set out the actual time at which the company will build for the city the complete plant, ready to take over as a going concern, leaving nothing unsolved for in the matter of cost and relieving the city of any uncertainty in this respect.

Mr. Hunt and one of the British capitalists will probably pay a visit to Edmonton at an early date.

Yours faithfully,
JOHN COATES.

ANSWERS FILED TO CHARGES IN THE BOULLON-BUTCHART CASE

With respect to the city losing the services of valuable superintendents, the commissioner avers that they left for other reasons than because of his arbitrary methods. There was nothing arbitrary in the dismissal of Superintendents Blawiegar and McNaughton.

Commissioner Butchart's replies to the charges are practically the same as those submitted by the utilities commissioner. Commissioner Butchart declares that he never upheld Commissioner Bouillon in any arbitrary or overbearing manner.

It is thought that the public utilities are in far better shape now than they were one year ago, and we are active in our efforts to keep on improving them. We realise fully that this is one of the purposes of our office, and we never lose sight of the fact that it is our duty to give these matters our due and constant attention.

While organized effort of the commissioners for better management of the city's business began only a year ago, and such efforts have been greatly impeded, especially since the first of January, 1911, and we believe that the conditions that existed in the past, and which we set to work to remedy and eliminate about a year ago, and which brought about the Francis investigation, have largely disappeared.
